Outlaws and Desperadoes in Eastern Kentucky and some of their Deeds.

A gentleman who has been traveling among the people of Eastern Kentucky has given to the New Albany Commercial a very lengthy account of what he saw, from which he takes the following:

As a sample of the lawlessness of the inhabitants of that region, he mentioned the circumstance of an affair which occurred only a few weeks ago in the neighborhood of Crab Orchard. A man by the name of Bridgewater became obnoxious to some desperate characters. A party of them collected together, rode into the town of Stanford, surrounded his house and found their victim playing a game of checkers. He was at once shot down, each one discharging his pistol at the body, so that all might equally share in the guilt. The perpetrators of the deed were taken up, tried in a neighboring town and cleared, as a matter of course

The matter was, however, taken in hand by General Thomas, and a body of troops sent out to effect their arrest Most of them escaped to the mountains, but some remained and depended upon their shrewdness to elude the military A fellow by the name of Collier, one of the ringleaders, was tracted to his house early one morning by the Sargeant and his squad of men, the house was thoroughly searched, all but the garret, and Collier was nowhere to be found.

At length they ascended to the garret, where he really was concealed while the soldiers were getting up, the women hauled him down a trap door into the room below and tucked him snugly away under a feather bed occupied by his old mother and his children

After the squad left he quietly came out, and mounting his horse, rode on to town, getting into the place a few minutes after the soldiers had left Our informant met with him on the road, a few minutes after the occurrence, and he conversed freely about the affair, appearing to feel no concern whatever He said they had killed Bridgewater because he had threatened to kill some of them Life in their estimation, has not the worth of a feather

A few miles from Crab Orchard, in one of the mountains a brother of Bridgewater, "Big Bridge," as he is called, has fortified a place and openly defies the authorities Several attempts have been made to secure his arrest but without success, He has about a dozen followers who stand picket and resist any attempt to dislodge them They sally out into the surrounding country, committing depredations of all kinds, stealing hogs horses and chickens, or robbing upon the highway It is said the Governor is raising a company of State troops to hunt them out of their dens

RETURNS FOR THE YEAR.—A recent issue of the New York Advocate gives the statistics of the M E Church for the year just closing:

There are sixty eight annual conferences, an increase of four over the previous year,

There are seven thousand nine hundred and eighty nine traveling preachers—an increase of four hundred and thirteen during the year

The membership of the entire Church, including its ministers, foots up one million one hundred and fifty thousand seven hundred and fifty two The net increase during the year is one hundred and twelve thousand, five hundred and seventy nine

The membership in the Southern States is near one hundred thousand, about three-fourths of whom are white and one fourth colored Most of the preachers in those conferences are Southern men

The total valuation of church edifices and parsonages exceed forty one million dollars, being an increase of over six million during the year

The centenary collections, when footed up, will exceed seven million dollars

Benevolent contributions except the missionary collections, have been in advance of former years

Georgetown, Ky., celebrated the late elections, and compelled all the girls who participated to wear rebel colors. The national flag was torn down from the college and found in the street with an insulting inscription

NORTH CAROLINA.—Under date of November 22d Ex Governor Holden of North Carolina wrote of the result of the recent election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention in that State as follows

MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 30, 1867.

Vindication of the Tenure of Office Law.

The testimony given before the House Judiciary Committee by E. A. Rollins, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, make important revelations which show up in no enviable light the operations of Mr. Johnson in making removals from office for political reasons, and appointing to the vacated positions partisans of his own choosing, who, owing to their want of character and principle, could be bought with Executive patronage. The Commissioner testified that,—

> The removals in the Internal Revenue Department were not beneficial to the service; that few of the incumbents were removed for incapacity or dishonesty; that he had no doubt that these removals caused a loss to the revenue of many millions of dollars; these changes continually encouraged distillers and rectifiers to combine for purposes of fraud; the President was in the habit of making the appointments without consulting him, and without looking at the records of the [illegible]. There were men in the service whom he had [illegible] to be removed as many as six times. In [illegible] the officers had been [illegible] a loss had [illegible]. In 240 collection districts 180 [illegible] had been removed. In [illegible] were made, the best [illegible].

Beside this statement of facts by the head of the Internal Revenue Department, in what light does Johnson's tirade against the Tenure of Office Law appear? He says in his message that that law has been the [illegible] of increasing corruption and [illegible] in the Revenue Department; that it [illegible] official accountability and probity [illegible]. Now every one knows that the law does not protect dishonest officials; it makes it the duty of the Executive to [illegible] or remove them, [illegible] to protect and retain in the public service a class of worthy and capable officers whom the President was removing for political reasons. The statements of Commissioner Rollins fully justify the [illegible] of Congress in the matter, and throw the [illegible] of these dishonest practices upon the Ex[illegible], where they belong. The frauds which are [illegible] on the [illegible] are committed by those [illegible] whom Johnson bought with ap[illegible] and after having dismissed capable and honest men to make [illegible] for these [illegible], he now has the [illegible]tery to charge the systematic and shameful [illegible] of this [illegible] which have been going on [illegible] years, to the action of Congress! The Commissioner of Internal Revenue declares on his [illegible] that he has no doubt that the removals which Johnson has [illegible] have caused a loss to the [illegible] millions; that few were re[illegible], and that, as a rule, the [illegible] were the ones who were [illegible] that [illegible] were others who could not [illegible] detriment to the [illegible] but [illegible] he had bought the President in vain [illegible]. In other words, the only [illegible] the Executive required in an [illegible] to his "policy;" and the only [illegible] for removing a capable [illegible] was a knowledge that such officer had too much [illegible] to change his politics [illegible] with Andrew and his pardon[illegible] of retaining office. The [illegible] Rollins are a complete [illegible] of the Tenure of Office Law, and [illegible] of the narrow [illegible] of Andrew [illegible].

[illegible] and the Military.

In the [illegible] the following appears: They (our [illegible]) have met here in familiar [illegible] Davis, [illegible] all of whom [illegible] honorable [illegible] in the Union armies [illegible] in some of the most [illegible] of the war, and all join in [illegible] as unwise and unjust the vin[illegible]. It is [illegible] possible for any [illegible] and noble [illegible] to have any [illegible] party, which follows [illegible] with the hyena cry for [illegible]; who, after the battle is fought and won [illegible] the black flag over a fallen foe.

We are [illegible] to be the [illegible] of the army, in this Department; that it [illegible] and [illegible]; that it [illegible] that its utter[illegible] character, and [illegible] that it is on terms of [illegible] with those who are at the [illegible]. But all well in[illegible] mistake if its efforts in [illegible] from any other source, or [illegible] than the exhibition of a [illegible]. If the distin[illegible] are given [illegible] have ever [illegible] the policy of Congress [illegible] since their [illegible] have taken any part in [illegible] of the [illegible] of Congress, or, on the other hand, if they, or any of them have supported Congress as [illegible] the [illegible] themselves [illegible] which the Commander-in-Chief of the army says he has always regarded as purely [illegible] of the province of the military,—if such has been their advent, the public have [illegible]. Certainly these Generals have made no public utterance of the kind. Nothing they have ever said or done, so far as the [illegible] by any sort of vio[illegible] such a [illegible] or motive as the Herald attributes to them. Where, then, [illegible] for putting them on the [illegible] partisans, [illegible] that the [illegible] of Congress as "unwise, unjust [illegible]." It [illegible] not be hazarding much to [illegible] that they will consider themselves [illegible] obligation to this self-appointed [illegible].

As to the remarks which that paper makes about "following a subdued and helpless enemy with a [illegible] for vengeance," and "raising a black flag over a fallen foe," all will understand that such talk is simply the fanfaronade of shallow demagogues who do not perceive that such [illegible] makes them and their [illegible] ridiculous. Such extravagant [illegible] of its force when it is met by the [illegible] fact that no considerable portion of the victorious party has ever raised a "cry for [illegible]," or proposed to tolerate revengeful [illegible] that [illegible] and a few others of his vindictive temper have ever exhibited a "hyena" spirit; and that so far from raising a black flag over a fallen foe," the [illegible] party has not visited the [illegible] a single individual, from the greatest to the least, who took part in the rebellion.

The following is the House Committee on the Pacific Railroad, as announced by Speaker Colfax at the [illegible] of the present session: Price of Iowa; Higby of California; Donnelly of Minnesota; [illegible] of [illegible]; Mallory of Oregon; Ames of Massachusetts; Covode of Pennsylvania; Pruyn of New York and Van Tromp of Ohio.

Directly east of the Capitol at Washington, on the plat which the illustrious man whose name that city bears [illegible] would be the east end of the metropolis, but which has never been built on, a new square has been laid out and named Lincoln square. On this spot the freedmen's memorial statue of the martyr President will be erected.

The trial of Jeff. Davis was postponed until March, in order that the Chief Justice might preside. The Chief Justice's other engagements rendered the postponement unavoidable.

Under Democratic Rule.

The telegraphic dispatches published to-day give an illustration of the beauties of Democratic rule in San Francisco. It is evident that that city is preparing for another Vigilance Committee. The Democratic triumph has brought back the crowd of desperadoes, "plug-uglies," "dead rabbits" and "blood tubs" who were banished from the city a few years ago; and in all probability the time will soon come when good citizens will be compelled to again combine to deliver the city from their rule. The amount of business before the Courts and the number of criminals deserving of to the penitentiary or the gallows in a city which for years has been as free from crime as any considerable city in America, affords an instructive commentary on Democratic rule, and reveals the consequences which follow the accession of the Democratic party to power. These desperadoes, guided by past experience, evidently suppose that under Democratic rule crime will again go unpunished in San Francisco. No doubt their instinct is right. No doubt they have a true idea of "Democracy." Let no one imagine that it is impossible for [illegible] to be again enacted in San Francisco like those which were witnessed there when the city was under Democratic administration, a dozen years ago. The material is there; more is gathering, and the fermentation is already begun. All the vicious elements of the population are attracted to the Democratic party, and as they hold the voting power, it will not take them long to corrupt the fountains of justice and bring affairs into the condition they had reached when the uprising of the better class of people twelve years ago, delivered the city from "Democratic" domination. It is worth while to notice how signally it is proved in the case of San Francisco that an immediate consequence of the obtainment of power by the Democratic party is an unprecedented increase of crime.

After all the abuse heaped upon Mr. Lincoln and Secretary Stanton for the arrest and incarceration of Gen. Charles P. Stone on account of the Ball's Bluff disaster, where Senator Baker lost his life, it turns out from revelations in Lossing's history, just published, that the arrest was brought about General McClellan. At first McClellan thought him to be without blame; but afterwards he received information from a refugee, which, in his mind, "tended to corroborate some of the charges made against General Stone," and orders were issued for his arrest. If General Stone be an [illegible] man, as both President Lincoln and General Scott believed, the blame of his arrest therefore [illegible] to no one but McClellan.

The New York Tribune prints nearly two double columns of [illegible] of persons on the registry list of that city who cannot be found at the places where they pretend to live. This is only a part of the list, its extreme length preventing its full publication. This is known as "the great Democratic [illegible]."

The proprietors of the Pacific Tribune, published at Olympia, have started a daily. It promises to continue as long as the enterprise meets expenses, but [illegible] that it [illegible] promise more. The paper makes a very fair appearance.

STATE ITEMS.

Ninety-one marriage licenses have been issued in Marion county, the past year.

S. M. Driver while [illegible] at work in the woods, seven miles from [illegible] county, some days ago, had one of his [illegible] in three places by a tree falling on him.

Samuel Brown [illegible] from Dayton, Dec. 23d, that he recently [illegible] a slaughtered hog raised by Mrs. [illegible] county, which weighed, dressed, 533 pounds. The hams weighed 50 pounds each and the sides, each, 100 pounds.

The [illegible] is an [illegible] paper in that it resolves to print the [illegible] after most other [illegible] have done with that [illegible]. It [illegible] to [illegible] the [illegible] of the message "next week and [illegible] in two [illegible]." Perseverance will tell.

The [illegible] says a huge bear was killed last week in the Butte creek hills, weighing upwards of a [illegible] pounds. This [illegible] had been the plague of the [illegible] in that vicinity for several years, preying upon hogs and cattle, of which it has destroyed a great number. Many [illegible] had been [illegible] to capture the beast, but until the "last shot," he had outstripped pursuit.

Olympia Correspondence.

EDITOR OREGONIAN: Since the adjournment of the Legislature nothing has occurred to ruffle the [illegible] of things at the capital. The most of the Hons. are off pleasuring in the dominions of Her Majesty, Victoria. The few that are left daily congregate at the office of Secretary Smith, where questions of politics, science, history, philology, and all other possible questions are most learnedly [illegible] and settled authoritatively. If it could only be known abroad all questions of public moment are adjusted, and all that is necessary is for the world and Uncle Sam to understand it.

Christmas has furnished [illegible] amusement for the little folks, and last night the Odd Fellows gave a ball at the Olympia Hall, said to be a brilliant affair. To-morrow night the Masonic lodge of Port Gamble give a ball in celebration of St. John's Day. The [illegible] is chartered by the lodge with their [illegible] liberality, to convey all who desire to go free of charge. It is expected this will be the [illegible] for pleasure seekers on the Sound.

Continued particulars of the devastations of the flood continue to arrive. The loss is very great with this portion of the Territory, and it will take years for it to recover from the blow. We have received no paper mail for more than two weeks from the Columbia, which fact seems to take us back ten or fifteen years. We are fairly famishing for news.

UNPARDONED REBELS.—The following list of rebels not having received absolution by means of the great pardon machine run by A. Johnson, is taken from his organ, the National Intelligencer. It should be added that a considerable number whose names grace this list of criminals, have been pardoned since the list was prepared:

Jeff. Davis, Alex. Stephens, Robt. Toombs, R. M. T. Hunter, J. P. Benjamin, Jas. L. Seddon, John C. Breckinridge, Thos. Bragg, John Slidell, M. Mason, N. Dudley Mann, L. O. C. Lamar, J. T. GOLD AND GREENBACKS.—The Pall Mall Gazette of October the 25th publishes the following letter from Mr. David A. Wells, U. S. Commissioner of Revenue, who is now in England. It was addressed to an English holder of five-twenty bonds:

"SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of Sept. [illegible], which has been forwarded to me from London. As regards the question you put to me whether the principal as well as the interest of the five-twenty bonds will be paid in gold, I would say that I have no doubt whatever that all such payments will be made in gold. If the law does not beyond a doubt express this fact, you must remember that there is no such expression in the British Consols or in the French Rentes, and it would be absurd to suppose that a great nation like the United States is going to conduct itself in regard to the principal and interest of the debt other than in accordance with the recognized laws of commerce and morality. I am, sir, yours most respectfully,

"DAVID A. WELLS,
"U. S. Commissioner of Revenue."

RECREATION AND AMUSEMENT.—It is necessary that mortals should have some amusement, and since our city is not blessed with an elegant theatre, or some place of innocent amusement, it is the duty of every man to see that his acquaintances coming to our city should at least be pleased, and how can you please them better than by taking them to KOHN & FISHELS, No. 91 Front street, to buy one of those handsome suits they keep for sale.

PROCLAMATION!!!

I've come, my dear people, among you once more,
Keeping up the good custom established of yore
I bid you all a [illegible] ! I wish you good [illegible]
A right merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
You will find me this year, as you have heretofore,
At McCormick's, on Front street the People's Book Store
Where I've opened my Budget—'twas filled to the brim
With every nice Toy that could talk, walk or swim.
I've Musical Work Boxes—and Guitars for the fair
And Gifts for the Gents that are both rich and rare,
Whilst my Budget includes the nicest new Toys
Intended as Gifts to good Girls and Boys!
I've the Ark in which Grandfather Noah was kept
When all other creatures from the world were swept,
(For men in those days would in evil persist,
So the world was washed by an Oregon mist!)
I've Babies of Rubber, of wax and of leather,
(They were all made to order), and well put together;
I've Vases and Cups nicely gilded outside,
And little Cock Horses for Bobbies to ride;
I've Cannon and Pistols which cannot explode,
For the reason they hold neither wadding or lead.
I've steamboats that run—you just wind them in front
And they'll beat the Cascade or the Wilson G. Hunt.
I've a new Locomotive—It can never explode,
'Twas built for the use of Gaston's Railroad,
I've Engines that play—Set them down on the floor
And they'll throw greater streams than old '2' or new '4.'
I've Furniture, Fiddles, and French Fusiliers,
Soldiers that look like B. B. Pioneers,
I've Swords made of tin—Guns and Pistols as well,
And the new kind of Drum that rings like a bell.
I've Masks of all sizes—I've Grace Hoops, galore,
And you'll find at McCORMICK'S a thousand Toys more,
On FRONT STREET the Store is—105,
Where TOYS are as plenty as bees in a hive;
Go there and buy them—this is my request,
His Prices are Low and his Stock is the Best.

{L. S.} Given at my Palace in Wonderland, this 30th day of the eleventh month, being the first year of the reign of George the Third in Webfoot.

MULTNOMAH COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—Mr. J. P. Garlick, Secretary of the Teachers' Institute, furnishes us the following summary of the proceedings of the late [illegible]: The Multnomah County Teacher's Institute [illegible] in Portland Dec. 26th, and continued its session until the evening of the 27th. The subject of Reading was taken up first in order, and a discussion ensued in regard to the merits of the various text books. A vote being taken resulted in favor of Wilson's Readers, which were recommended by the Institute to be used in connection with the School Charts published by the same author.

Mr. Watkins then introduced the subject of Orthography. After quite an interesting discussion, Mr. Pershing [illegible] the following: Whereas, The Orthography of the English language is very difficult to learn, and should be [illegible], and as there is an effort made for that purpose, therefore,

Resolved, That this Institute give their united influence to the enterprise. Adopted.

The subject of Penmanship was then taken up, and illustrated on the blackboard by Mr. Pratt. A vote was taken by the Institute, recommending the use of the [illegible] system of Penmanship, and none other, in our [illegible].

[illegible] was the next subject, introduced by Prof. [illegible], who organized the Institute into a class, having the teachers to recite in the same manner that they [illegible] their pupils to recite, provided they were [illegible] in grammar in their several [illegible]. [illegible] was taken in the discussion of this subject. By a vote of the Institute, Pinneo's Primary Grammar was recommended for adoption in our [illegible].

Mr. [illegible] introduced the subject of Geography, illustrating his method of teaching, and highly recommending the [illegible] of requiring the pupil to draw maps, it having a [illegible] the student both neat and accurate. [illegible] resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the system of drawing, in teaching Geography, is recommended by this Institute.

The [illegible] of Physiology was next presented by Mr. Kin[illegible], who ably advocated the introduction of this study into our common schools. It was moved that Cutter's Physiology be recommended for the use of our [illegible], which [illegible] prevailed.

The [illegible] teaching was introduced by Mr. Pratt, who [illegible] his mode of teaching by the use of Wilson's [illegible]. The Institute seemed to be a unit in favor of this mode of teaching, for young pupils.

[illegible] Teaching a Profession, Mr. Kin[illegible] [illegible] very appropriate remarks.

He was [illegible] by Prof. Frambes, who introduced the [illegible] and earnestly advocated the [illegible] school in Oregon. He pointed out the [illegible] which has resulted to the public [illegible] of California from the establishment of such a [illegible] in that State.

Mr. Pershing and the Rev. Mr. A[illegible] spoke highly in favor of the [illegible]. The latter stated that, were he about to teach in California, he would first take a course of [illegible] Normal School, in order that his system of [illegible] might be in harmony with that of the other [illegible] in the State.

Prof. [illegible] offered the following resolution, which was [illegible]:

[illegible] That [illegible] of the great [illegible] by the different [illegible] in our [illegible], and the [illegible] of the [illegible] of this [illegible], that the greatest [illegible] in our State, as far as public education is concerned, is a State Normal [illegible].

For want of time, the [illegible] many interesting [illegible]. An [illegible] Committee [illegible] duty it will be to [illegible] the county Superintendent in the examination of teachers, was appointed by the [illegible] of the [illegible].

The [illegible] will meet for the examination of teachers on the last [illegible] of each of the [illegible]: February, May, August and November.

On [illegible], it was ordered that a copy of the proceedings of this [illegible] be furnished to the [illegible]. There being no further business [illegible] adjourned to meet [illegible] at the call of the [illegible] at some time [illegible] July 1868.

[illegible] CITY ITEMS.—A friend at Oregon City sends us the [illegible]: Mr. Wm. Walsh and his [illegible], who lived on the [illegible], were [illegible] in the [illegible] day last. In attempting to cross the stream in a wagon, the horses [illegible] and he was compelled to [illegible] them from the wagon. He then took [illegible] to the bank, [illegible] and returned [illegible] to the [illegible]. Taking his daughter on behind him, he [illegible] to return, but the horse again [illegible] and threw them both into the stream, from which they were unable to escape. The body of the old gentleman was soon recovered, but when [illegible] from there, the young lady's body had not yet been found...... Miss Callie Barlow, who lives on Lower Molalla was go[illegible] in company with her younger brother [illegible] at the North end of Pudding river [illegible] by the river during the high [illegible], her [illegible] the saddle [illegible]. She held to the bridle until the horse fell on her, but fortunately did not hurt her. She then let go of the bridle and was carried down the stream till she caught in a drift, [illegible] to be [illegible], and one of them succeeded in rescuing her. I am not advised whether the knight who performed the chivalrous deed has claimed the young lady's hand, as a reward for his courage, or not......It is rumored that the ladies in town propose giving a Leap year ball on the [illegible] of Jan. 1st. It will of course be a [illegible], as the [illegible] here know of no such word as fail...... The [illegible] Lewiston is now high and dry on one of our [illegible] and is moving slowly toward the field of her future [illegible], but it is feared that the P. T. Co. have notified [illegible] that she will not be allowed to "go to [illegible]" when she [illegible] the company's [illegible]. Should [illegible] prevented from "taking to the water" when she [illegible] the use of the Willamette river, she will have a long walk before she reaches Albany. [illegible] the river is [illegible] high, she can [illegible] get as far as [illegible] on the county road, which is overflowed at the [illegible] high stage of water, in consequence of the P. T. Co.'s [illegible]. A petition has been gotten up and is [illegible] setting forth the above fact, and some others, and asking the County Commissioners to take [illegible] to abate that nuisance. The last time I saw [illegible] he was on his way home to "cook the goose" [illegible] gave him.

[illegible] BY FRESHET.—The Vancouver Register of Saturday, has the following further particulars of damages by [illegible]: "We learn that the water [illegible] the late heavy rains rose very high about the [illegible] of James Reed on the East Fork of Lewis river, but we believe he did not sustain much damage. Mr. [illegible], in the same neighborhood, we are informed, lost [illegible] hundred bushels of grain, wheat and oats, a rick of hay, and one of straw, and came nigh having his [illegible] drowned in his barn. We understand he kept their [illegible] above water by throwing down grain, probably grain in the sheaf, for them to stand on. This was [illegible] and will [illegible] suggest to Mr. R. the [illegible] of his building on higher ground. We [illegible] with him in his losses. We are told that the water was three feet higher in Salmon creek than ever before known. How much higher it was on [illegible] river than ever before seen by the oldest inhabitant we are not informed. We would like to know. We have heard of no [illegible] on the East Fork than those mentioned. We understand there is no probability that the recent great freshet will result in the formation of a new [illegible] into the Columbia [illegible]."

DALLES ITEMS.—We clip the subjoined items from the [illegible] of Saturday: The Wasco Woolen Company are to meet on the 18th day of January next, for the purpose of increasing their capital stock......The election of [illegible] of Col[illegible] No. 5, I. O. O. F., for the [illegible] term, took place last evening, at a regular meeting held at their Hall, which resulted as follows: [illegible] N. G.; [illegible] V. G.; Geo. Ruch, R. S.; [illegible] P. S.; W. H. Gates, A. W. Ferguson and J. H. [illegible], Trustees......We received a letter from Captain [illegible], dated at Warm Spring Agency, December [illegible], [illegible] us that in company with Mr. Lantiss, he went hunting on the 17th, south of the Agency, and became separated and lost and wandered around all day and night. Next morning, the 18th, he got in with his [illegible]. Lantiss came in, or rather was [illegible] by a relief party from the Agency; he was not [illegible].

[illegible]—The Record of Saturday tells the following tough one: "Referring to the accident of the horse [illegible] both his hind feet, mentioned in our columns yesterday, a friend informs us that a similar disaster [illegible] a horse belonging to the California Stage [illegible] 1866, but in this case it was the fore feet. They came off in a dark night (the ground being covered with snow) at the summit of the "Smith Hill" in Umpqua [illegible], and as the darkness prevented the discovery, the horse was driven, on the stumps of his legs, to [illegible] Station, a distance of six miles. Next morning the feet were found at the top of the hill, and the bloody [illegible] made by the suffering beast were plain in the snow along the road. Tom Tindal was the driver." This is [illegible] up to some of Munchausen's best, though quite a [illegible] effort in that direction. Tom Tindal is evidently a talented yarnist.

AN INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION.—The Sixth Industrial Exhibition under the auspices of the Mechanics' Institute of San Francisco, is already announced for some time—not yet determined—in August, 1868. Invitations will be extended to all the States and Territories of the Pacific coast to participate. We suggest that the occasion will be an [illegible] one for Oregon to assert and prove her [illegible] to important consideration, by contributing a good list of her manufactures to the Exhibition. An opportunity like this should not be neglected. We have the articles which if exhibited will place our State in its proper place as to rank—let them be prepared and sent.

COMPLIMENTARY SERENADE.—On Saturday morning, the [illegible] Brass Band gave a complimentary serenade to Mr. A. B. Richardson, in accordance with its annual custom. At one time and another, the band has received [illegible] aid from Mr. R., and hence is considered by the members as a sort of patron-saint, to whom they owe the particular compliment of an annual serenade. On this occasion, there was, not only "music by the band," but the music of hearty and kind words, spoken in forte, and the staccato tones of sundry uncorkings, in chorus.

CAPITOL, OLYMPIA, Dec. 11th, 1867.

DR. GROSS, Portland—Sir: I have been in the habit of using the "HENLEY ROYAL BALSAM" in my family, who reside at Wallula, Walla Walla county, W. T. PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS:

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in these far off places by its merits.

Just Cause for being Alarmed.—When a Cough has been running for a long time, and you begin to feel a pain setting in upon your lungs, attended with tightness across the chest, it is high time that you should awaken to the danger of your disease, which is fast running into Consumption. Now, before it is too late, use ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, which will cure the disease, and all will be well with you. For sale by the Dealers in Family Medicines generally.

Song for the Children

Come stand by my knee little children
Too weary for laughter or song
The sports of the daylight are over
And evening is creeping along
The snow fields are white in the moon light
The winds of the winter are chill
But under the sheltering roof tree
The fire shineth ruddy and still

You sit by the fire little children
Your cheeks are ruddy and warm
But out in the cold of the winter
Is many a shivering form
There are mothers that wander for shelter
And babes that are pining for bread
Oh thank the dear Lord little children
From whose tender hand you are fed

Come look in my eyes little children
And tell me through all the long day
Have you thought of the Father above us,
Who guarded from evil your way?
He heareth the cry of the sparrow
And careth for great and for small
In life and in death little children
His love is the truest of all

Now go to your rest, little children,
And over your innocent sleep
U[illegible] by your vision, the angels
Their watch through the darkness shall keep,
Then pray that the Shepherd who guideth
The lambs that he loved so well
May lead you in life a rosy morning,
B[illegible] the still waters to dwell

[illegible] on the Subject of Reconstruction

A [illegible] of the [illegible] of Secretary Stanton [illegible] on the subject of [illegible]

"I had [illegible] very early conversations with Mr Lincoln upon the subject, and advised that any [illegible] the government should be [illegible] the [illegible] authority solely, and to treat the rebel organization and government as utterly null and void. On the day [illegible] his death a conversation took place between the Attorney [illegible] and myself upon the subject, at the Ex[illegible]. An hour or two afterwards, and [illegible] the [illegible] of the afternoon, Mr. [illegible] came to the War Department and [illegible]. After I had [illegible] my [illegible] allowing the rebel [illegible] to [illegible] or the rebel authorities to have any participation whatever in the business of reorganization [illegible] he sat down at my desk, took a piece of [illegible] and wrote a telegram to General Weitzel, and handed it to me. 'There,' said he, 'think that will suit you?' I told him no; it did not go [illegible] far enough; that the members of the [illegible] would probably come to Richmond and that General Weitzel ought to be directed to prohibit their assembling. He took up his pen [illegible] and [illegible] that addition to his telegram [illegible]. He handed it to me I said [illegible] rightly. It was transmitted [illegible] to General Weitzel, and was the last [illegible] was ever [illegible] by Mr. Lincoln in the War Department. Some of the other [illegible] the [illegible] of the armies of the [illegible] together their Legis[illegible] and [illegible] to instructions [illegible] the War Department [illegible] on their own [illegible] the policy which was indicated by the [illegible] of the President to General Weitzel, the [illegible] the assembling of these [illegible]

[illegible] It may be proper to add in [illegible] to the history of this subject, that on the day [illegible] of the [illegible] on the [illegible] day of Mr. Lincoln's [illegible] Gen. [illegible] and the [illegible] of the Cabinet, except Mr. [illegible] Gen. Grant, at that time, [illegible] of the [illegible] country, as he [illegible] it to be, and as it would be on the [illegible] which [illegible] The subject of re[illegible] was [illegible] his length [illegible] to that time I had my [illegible] with [illegible] the [illegible] form the [illegible] of [illegible] what [illegible] to be a difficulty in the [illegible] to make the will of recon[illegible] of a form or [illegible] and laws of the [illegible] as [illegible] and Gov[illegible] in the [illegible] State under [illegible] any [illegible] for [illegible] organizations or [illegible] of that [illegible] Mr [illegible] to the [illegible] into his [illegible] which I [illegible] There [illegible] I had left of [illegible] that was as [illegible] the [illegible] in the seve[illegible] to be the only [illegible] of opinion [illegible] should have suf[illegible] it should be con[illegible] to these [illegible] laws [illegible] to be [illegible] about [illegible] It was only a [illegible] by the other [illegible] is to have a copy [illegible] consid[illegible] is being to the [illegible] and Cabinet, in a [illegible] might be a [illegible] the [illegible] time starting point in [illegible] that it [illegible] only be [illegible] I did not at all [illegible] Mr. Lincoln was [illegible] the subject [illegible] after the [illegible] of John[illegible] Mr. [illegible] The [illegible] of each member of the Cabi[illegible] It was somewhat all [illegible] session [illegible] the elective fran[illegible] who [illegible] of opinion [illegible] The President expressed his [illegible] I expressed my [illegible] of the Cabinet [illegible] The [illegible] of the President to [illegible] upon to the colored peo[illegible] and I think [illegible] relative to [illegible] but that [illegible] in the Cabinet.

[illegible]

One of [illegible] peculiar of American vulgar [illegible] of the words "lady" and [illegible] These unfortunate words have [illegible] such [illegible] servile service that [illegible] all their [illegible] and no lon[illegible] The fine old Saxon [illegible] are too plain and homely to [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] than [illegible] through all classes of so[illegible] results. Wo[illegible] exist, and even men are becoming [illegible] who have [illegible] to hear how one [illegible] gave another "lady" a black eye for saying she was "no lady," because she [illegible] "lady's" boy Pat down [illegible] The "lady" who presides over the fish stall in the [illegible] lady" [illegible] The re[illegible] will soon be coming out with [illegible] as these

[illegible] "Frailty! thy name is lady"
"Oh, lady, in our hours of ease,
[illegible] coy and hard to please,
"I dare do all that may [illegible]"
"I now see
[illegible] bone, flesh of my flesh,
[illegible] Lady [illegible] name"

And as the vulgarism spreads it may at last force its way into the gravest prose, and we shall have the awkward lover compelled to confess that he [illegible] this lady to be his wedded lady," while in [illegible] we shall be reminded of the "gentleman that is born of lady" The neat, trim, refined [illegible] who preside at the [illegible] of our stores are beginning to fade away into "[illegible]" and it will not be long before our "[illegible] ladies" do up our linen for us, while "fire-[illegible]" extinguish our conflagrations, and [illegible] build our houses and [illegible] There is a [illegible] affectation in all this, and yet it is astonishing to [illegible] how wide [illegible] is the vulgarism. It is to be seen among the [illegible] of fashionable life, where ignorantly [illegible] young women resent as a slight any reference to their honorable distinction of [illegible] and regard an allusion to a male ac[illegible] as a "man" as a shocking breach of [illegible] When an individual becomes ashamed of [illegible] a "woman," and fancies that she achieves a [illegible] elevation by becoming "a lady," [illegible] may be accepted as proof positive that she is either very ignorant or very des[illegible] of right womanly qualities and principles, and the same rule applies to the other sex

WESTON'S COSTUME —The Norwich Daily Ad[illegible] says the costume of Weston, pedestrian, [illegible] he walked through Norwich, was "a white hat, red leggins, and cloth [illegible] with [illegible]" This is a little, but only a little, better than the Spaniard's idea of full dress, viz —a pair of spurs and a standing collar

A Three Hours' Combat with an Elephant

Mr Hyatt Frost of Van Amburgh's menagerie gave us yesterday, the particulars of a terrible fight with Tippo Sahib the well known elephant which occurred at Connersville, Indiana last Tuesday The menagerie has gone into winter quarters at that place and the colossal animal is housed in a small building, where he will be kept until the show season opens next year Tippo Sahib is by the way is now the largest elephant in America He is thirty six years old and weighs ten thousand pounds

The battle with Tippoo resulted from a change in his keepers Frank Nash his keeper for ten years was recently supplanted by Chas Johnson formerly of Barnum's menagerie The elephant will not accept a new master without a battle, and Mr Johnson fully prepared himself for an exciting encounter The elephant was in particularly bad humor with all mankind He would allow nobody in his quarters striking at every intruder with his trunk and tusks most viciously

On Tuesday morning last at 10 o'clock the combat opened The new keeper with nine assistants had fully equipped himself with chains and cable for tying, and spears and pitchforks for subduing Tippoo The first thing done was to fasten a brickbat to the end of a rope and throw it over the end of the tusk chain, which latter is fastened to one leg and one tusk By means of this rope, a twenty ton cable chain (formerly used to subdue the famous Hannibal), was slip-noosed around the tusk. Next, an excavation was made under the sill of the house, and while the elephant's attention was attracted to the other side of the room by a pail of water poured into his trough, the cable chain was passed through the excavation and fastened to heavy stakes outside All this time the infuriated monster struck all round him with terrific ferocity, and tugged at his chain with incredible momentum

The next thing accomplished was the snaring of his hind legs This was consummated by the slinging of fresh ropes around those two stately pillars of elephant flesh, bone and muscle, and finally by the [illegible] strategy of the keeper and another man, these ropes were fastened to stumps outside. The elephant was now sufficiently pinioned to allow the order, "charge pitchforks" to be given Ten men armed with these ugly implements of offense, plunged them into the rampaging beast, taking care, of course, to avoid penetrating his eyes or joints The tenderest spot in an elephant is just behind the fore legs, and that locality was prodded unmercifully By means of a hooked spear sunk in his back Tippoo was brought to his knees, but he surged up again with such awful strength that he swept his tormentors off their feet, and made his chains whistle like fiddle strings After an hour's fighting he was brought down on his side, but for two hours longer he tugged at his chains with frenzied obstinacy He pulled so hard at times that his hind legs were straight out behind him and three feet off the ground

At the end of three hours, the giant gave in by "trumpeting," which is the elephant way of crying "[illegible]." The moment this peculiar cry was heard the battle ceased The keeper made Tippo get up and lie down a number of times, and he was as obedient to the word of command as a gentle pony. The animal was then groomed and rubbed off with whisky. He allowed all manner of [illegible] without so much as flapping an ear. He was a subjugated elephant.

At one stage of the fight, the dog "Jack," (a companion of the elephant), thought some of the tying business foul play He flew upon Johnson's back and tried to sink his fangs into his neck, but was pulled off and dragged out of the [illegible] "Jack" evidently sympathized with his big friend.—Cincinnati Commercial

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING [illegible] REMEDY to the [illegible] of the [illegible] begs to state a few facts in [illegible] It [illegible] is so thorough [illegible] owing to the [illegible] were not known [illegible] He [illegible] with him, [illegible] to the propriety of giving it [illegible] circulation, and, as proved [illegible] his native [illegible] only [illegible] among his friends and neighbors.

The [illegible] was one of [illegible] and for many years was a [illegible] to [illegible] and, after [illegible] efforts to [illegible] the Inventor to more [illegible] the [illegible] of its virtues finally [illegible] of the [illegible] preparation

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a [illegible] to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all expedients have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its [illegible] power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and [illegible] that he instructs all his [illegible] TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the [illegible] living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county

ALEXANDER L WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years For one year they were so bad that she could not work Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea

E B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years

NATHANIEL [illegible], of [illegible] county, had inflamed [illegible] bad eyes for over fifteen years

ROBERT KAMPEY and W D PORTER, of Harrisburg. JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G E WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg
